SYNOPSIS

This course will provide students with a comprehensive understanding of international and organized crime groups and transnational criminal organizations, with specific emphasis on their criminal activities and how they impact the United States.

Students will examine the often-complex working relationships between drug cartels, organized crime groups, transnational gangs, and the criminal street gangs of the United States. They will also be introduced to practical investigative tools to combat the influence and spread of transnational organized crime and their criminal partnerships.

- Mexican Drug Cartels
- Eastern European Organized Crime
- Asian Organized Crime
- Sureño and Norteño Gangs
- Human Traffickers
- Investigative Tools

This course is intended for all members of the law enforcement community including patrol officers, correctional officers, detectives, special assignment personnel, federal agents, tribal officers, analysts, parole and probation officers, and prosecutors

Instructor:

The instructor has nearly thirty years of law enforcement experience and is currently a patrol supervisor in the Denver Metropolitan area. His career has included overt and covert anti-gang and organized crime and major case investigations.

He has conducted and supervised gang, narcotic, organized crime, and homeland security operations and provides expert instruction to law enforcement and corrections agencies across the United States.

The Oregon-Idaho HIDTA mission is to facilitate, support and enhance collaborative drug control efforts among law enforcement agencies and community-based organizations, thus significantly reducing the impact of illegal trafficking and use of drugs throughout Oregon and Idaho. As part of their mission, they provide quality training to law enforcement personnel to enhance their investigative, management and officer safety skills to successfully eliminate drug trafficking and use at all levels.

Blue Line Academy is a professional law enforcement training and consulting organization with specific focus and expertise in the identification and investigation of criminal gangs, transnational gangs, and other organized crime groups. The organization provides up-to-date, accurate, and relevant training to members of the law enforcement, correctional, and prosecutorial communities to better enable them to understand, identify, and investigate these organizations, thus reducing their impact on our communities.
